Description:

This plugin allows you to quickly create child themes from any theme that you have currently installed on your site/blog. It also creates rtl.css if exists in the parent theme.

New and Important

We have noticed that some child themes created by this plugin do not work as expected. This is not a bug in this plugin but could be caused by theme authors using custom theme frameworks and/or do not using WordPress' recommended functions for themes supporting child themes.

We have launched a FREE service that allows you to setup a test/sandbox WordPress site in seconds. No technical knowledge is required. Join today and test themes and plugins before you actually put them on your live site. For more info go to: http://qsandbox.com

Features

- Create a theme with one click of a button
- Never forget what files to copy and what to skip when creating child themes.
- Easy to use interface
- When moving through the themes the currently looked one will have a nice background & border
- Create unlimited child themes from a parent theme. The plugin will add Child 01, Child 02 etc.
